

Defense AT&L
March - April 2006

Highlights of This Issue

- Paul Ryan, DTIC administrator, talks about what it means to be DoD's technical information broker—the repository of all the information produced by DoD or on behalf of DoD.
- David Walker, U.S. comptroller general, pulls no punches in warning that current fiscal policy is irresponsible and unsustainable, and he challenges government to take action or risk “mortgaging our kids’ and grandkids’ futures.”
- Inspired by the news that the graphic novel Persepolis is required reading at Westpoint, Defense AT&L breaks new ground with the first ever graphic article for the AT&L workforce.
